HEAD COUNSELLOR IN DANCE RECITALS

Of course, we have heard all winter that Marge Littell was doing wonderful work with the Miriam Winslow Group but the month of April seems to have been her big month for you cannot take up a Boston paper without seeing her name. The Fine Arts Theatre has had a series of four very special Saturday morning programs and one of them was devoted to the Miriam Winslow Group. Perhaps it is just as well you could not all go for if you had everyone would have wanted to be in the Dancing Unit this summer. The whole program was very beautiful and most intriguing with gorgeous costumes and beautiful lighting effects making it even more so. However, we were particularly proud of Marge's individual work. Whether dancing the Sarabande or Chopin's beautiful Posthumous Valse, impersonating The Chase by Dohnanyi, Greek Rhythms by Chaminade, or the colorful Stick Nautch by Strickland, the same fine quality of feeling and understanding pervaded all her numbers and one watched with pleasure her changing personality as she interpreted this varied and brilliant program. In fact we were so enthused over this that we sent you all notices of the Recital at the Repertory Theatre on April 28th when the Miriam Winslow School of Dancing presented "The Review of the Dance." We hope you were all able to go for if it was anywhere near as lovely as the Fine Arts program we are sure you would not want to miss it.

CAMP TRIO PLAYS AT NEW YORK TEA

No one who was at the New York Tea needs to be told how much we enjoyed the very fine program given by the members of the Trio—Mr. Edgar Williams, violinist, Miss Jean Schneider, cellist, and Miss Marie Powers, pianist, of the David Mannes Music School of New York—who will be with us at camp this summer, and we all want to express our appreciation of the very great pleasure they gave us. Mr. Williams opened his program with the Schubert "Marche Militaire" followed by the Debussy "Romance," and the "March of the Tin Soldiers" of Pierne, which he smilingly remarked "was dedicated to Little Wohelo." We had hoped to have Massenet's "Air de Ballet" and the Tschaiowsky "Andante Cantabile," but a New York Reunion has to fulfill many needs, such as moving pictures, camp songs, ice-cream, and much chat, and people live in suburbs, and there are trains to catch, so it was necessary to postpone the rest until summer. However, we hope you will all be able to come up for at least one evening of music, for can you imagine anything more appealing than the Andante Cantabile being heard across the water on one of those still evenings at camp?

ADDRESSES:

LUTHER GULICK CAMPS
Mr. and Mrs. J. Halsey Gulick,
Directors

Address until June 7th:

172 Cushing Street, Providence, R. I.

After June 7th:

ALUMNAE NEWS

Edith Ackley has been giving marionette shows advertising Elizabeth Arden products.

Katharine Alden (Spooks) will keep her workshop open in Plymouth this summer.

Hope Allen broadcast over station W A A B on Thursday, May 3, on the value of physical education.

Moirra Archbold is studying violin with Josef Kaspar in Washington.

Lucy Barnard (Mrs. Ellis O. Briggs) is in Havana, Cuba, where her husband is connected with the American Embassy.

Mary Louise Bartlett was a maid at the Wellesley Junior Prom. The job of maid is reserved for the most charming freshman in the college.

Jean Berwald has moved from Cleveland Heights to 19800 Marchmont Road, Shaker Heights, Ohio.

Katharine Bingham (Mrs. H. P. Leverich) has a daughter, Nancy, born in Berlin, Germany, during April. Mr. Leverich is connected with the American Embassy in Berlin.

Marion Blumer is back in Syracuse this year. She is on the staff of the News Sheet of the Syracuse Junior League.

Betty Brown, of Chicago, was married last fall to Collen E. Whitman, Jr. The Whitmans live at 333 East 43rd St., New York City.

Claire Childs (Mrs. Paul McBride) of the Chicago Junior League, won the blue ribbon for Needlepoint in the Crafts Group of the Regional Junior League Arts Exhibition, for Region VII.

Frances Cooper is on the staff of the News Sheet published by the Junior League of Syracuse.

CAMP TIMANOUS NEWS OF THE BOYS

Timanous was a rather small camp last summer but this year the enrollment is going to be more than doubled. Recently the following new boys have entered: Robert Wharey of Larchmont, New York, (Bob's mother is a former Wohelo girl, Helen Walworth); Haskell Schell of Cambridge, Massachusetts, (Haskell's sister is to be in Sebago Wohelo); Charles Whittemore of New Canaan, Connecticut, Robert Bensen, also of New Canaan, Nathan P. Oakes of Providence, Jimmie Godwin of Winchester, Robert Jaynes of West Newton, and Norman McGay of Lowell.

The Skipper and Lee are bringing the youngest camper in the history of Timanous. Richard Fowler Boyden will be ten months old when camp opens. He is bidding fair to break the record of continual activity set by Johnny Stoddard last summer. Richard now tips the scales at 19½ pounds and with the camp food and program he is expected to break 25 pounds before the summer is over. The Skipper is training him to be a star pitcher on the Timanous ball team.

Albert (Bennie) Bensen is to be one of the new Junior Counsellors. Bennie is one of the Skipper's star soccer players at Deerfield and during the winter plays basketball and in the spring, tennis. Among his

JEAN HENLEY TO HEAD ARTS AND CRAFTS

The camps have been most fortunate in being able to secure Jean Henley as Head Counsellor of the Arts and Crafts Unit. Jean is not only a sculptor of note but she is herself an old camp girl. It is unusual to find a woman with her all-around ability. While at camp she was not only the outstanding girl in the field of art but she won the highest honors in water sports and land activities.

Jean's art career started at an early age. At ten, while at the Francis W. Parker School in Chicago, she did a "Man coming out of the earth" after the fashion of Rodin, whose works she had just seen on exhibition. This early figure received considerable attention and definitely marked her as a budding sculptor. At Vassar Jean majored in Art and Dr. MacCracken gave her a special room to use as a studio. After Vassar she went abroad where she studied the technique of sculpture in Zurich, Switzerland, in the Atelier of Alphons Magg. Following Zurich she went to Paris and studied under Despiau for three years. Last fall Jean came back to America to make a portrait of her beloved Principal of the Francis W. Parker School, Miss Flora J. Cooke. Jean's work is now on exhibition at the Chicago Art Institute.

Jean personally claims that her four years at camp had a great influence on her work and that she is overjoyed with the opportunity of returning and starting in where she left off a number of years ago.

Besides being Head Counsellor Jean is going to teach pottery, and sketching and she will co-ordinate the Art work to make a well balanced summer. She is particularly interested in correlating her work with the natural beauty of the surroundings. Jean is a natural lover of camp life and the girls under her supervision will have a rare opportunity to catch her contagious enthusiasm for her work.

Bert Hoellrich will again have charge of the jewelry and she has been making plans all winter for the summer projects. With this specialized group more time will be available and she is planning to let the girls try far more pretentious work. The new shop underneath the old craft house will be more convenient for the jewelers. They can stop in at all times during the day to do a little filing, sawing, or polishing.

Ollie Faust is going to take over the weaving. Last summer she assisted Dottie in the work. Bert, as all the old girls will know, is an expert weaver, and will be in the same building to help out when needed.

The two Junior Counsellors in this group are Jane Hamilton and Louise Bancker. They will probably assist in different parts of the program but they will have the opportunity of specializing if they care to.

DOTTIE LEBUTT RETURNING

Dottie LeButt has been planning a trip to Europe for the past few years but it just doesn't seem to go through. Each year when the plans seem to be complete she gets homesick for camp and decides to return. She has again given up her summer European plans and is returning to camp as Head Counsellor of the Music Unit.

REUNION TEAS

THE NEW YORK REUNION

The New York Reunion, held at the National Arts Club on March 24th, was the largest gathering of campers, ex-campers, parents and friends which we have had in years. There were about a hundred and fifty people present—first, second and third generation campers, ranging from the summer of 1907 through the summer of 1933. Frances Gulick and Louise Gulick Robinson laid claim to having been the first of those present to go to camp, while Louise's two children (third generation campers) started camping in 1919 and 1921. Helen Walworth Wharey and Mary Garside Wright remembered Sebago Wohelo of the summer of 1913 and both of them brought campers for 1934—Bill Wharey, who is entered for Timanous; and Priscilla Wright, a Little Woheloite-to-be. Edythe Smith Hall and Myla Raycroft Hahner remembered 1914 at camp and Dottie Merrill Gulick and Mary Mathews Thomas, 1916. Then there were such moderns as Bobby Baker Taylor, who dated back only to 1919; Jean Henley and Peyton Kirk, of 1924; Evelyn Stephens of 1926; Helen Starrett, Jean Baldwin and Totty Hoyt of 1928; and Maija Grotell of 1929. And so on up to last summer's campers, represented by Peggy Austin, Jean Baker, Louise Bancker, the four Boydens, Hector Choiniere, Marie and Carol Christopher, Helen Crossley, Edith Day, Margaret Dorkey, Flit Findley, Joan Foster, Dottie and Halsey Gulick, Cecil Hodgman, C. Merritt, Ted Perrine, Gertrude Plaisted, May Reynolds, Mary Riter, Enid Robertson, Charlotte and June Robinson, Virginia Schick, Peggy Scott, Libby Smith, Eleanore Strohm, Adelaide and Patsy Townsend, Booboo and Buddy Vondermuhll, Anne Wonders, Betty Wyckoff, and Don Waterman.

THE WASHINGTON TEA

Mother Merrill gave an awfully nice tea for campers and ex-campers on the 27th of March. Lufe and Stan Aldrich, Betty Williams, Dottie and Halsey Gulick were the last summer's campers who were there, and Clara Hallard Fawcett and Moira Archbold of the Alumnae. Katherine Ford, our "after-camp" camper, was also there.

THE "BOSTON TEA PARTY"

The "Boston Tea Party," held at the Women's Republican Club, on April 6th, was a coming-out party for the youngest second generation camper—Mariella Boyden, aged four, and entered for Tiny Wohelo. It was also quite a gathering of the clan for Camp Timanous, for The Skipper was there and Don Waterman as well as Dick and Jack Ragle, Haskell Schell and Robert Jaynes (both entered for this summer).

Of last summer's Woheloites, there were Anne Slade, Bob, Beebe, Mul, Baba, and Mariella Boyden, Hector Choiniere, Barbara Marden, Jean McGay, Helen Jaynes, Pat Parkhurst, Harriet Chandler, Nono Bancroft, Jean Halladay, Jane Major, Janie Holland, Sylvia Taylor, Bert Hoellrich, Gertrude Plaisted, and Dottie and Halsey Gulick.

Among the Alumnae there were Eileen Chater, Mary Bingham, Mary Lois Paschal Davis, and Katharine Alden. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Boyden of Newtonville, although they were never campers, seemed like alumni, being represented by two sons who are campers, two daughters-in-law, and four grandchildren.

THE PROVIDENCE TEA

The Providence Reunion was held on April 7th at the Providence Plantations

Club. Of last summer's campers there were Betty Huestis, Bess and Hippo Reynolds, Bob, Beebe and Mul Boyden, Halsey, Dottie and Katherine Gulick, Gertrude Plaisted, Helen Maxcy, Ann Slade, Alice Jackson, and Nancy Jencks. Brand new campers who were there were: Jane Cushman, Mary Frances Lyon, Frances Green and Elisabeth Considine. Of the Alumnae there were: Hope Allen and Katherine Mitchell Salisbury with her daughter Janet whom we hope to have with us this summer.

Marion Eckhart (Mrs. J. R. D. Stevenson, Jr.) has moved from Chicago to 956 Vernon Avenue, Winnetka, Ill.

Louisa Ford has returned from Europe, and is at present at 325 East 55th St., New York City.

Betty Fort has announced her engagement to William B. Church, of Nantucket. Mr. Church teaches at the Salisbury School. They are to be married in June, and will live at the school next year.

Elizabeth Gere (Mrs. Horace M. Byrnes) has a son, born this month in Syracuse.

Marguerite Graham is at the Garrison Forest School, in Garrison, Md.

Frances Gulick went up to the Migis Lodge in South Casco on the first of April, and has already opened it for fishing.

Ruth Kinnicutt (Mrs. Wm. R. Baker, Jr.) and her husband took a West Indies cruise during Easter vacation, and visited Bermuda at the same time that Louise Gulick Robinson and Sophie MacDonald were there. They met by accident at the Elbow Beach Hotel in Paget.

Eleanor (Laddie) Larned goes to the Goodyear-Burlingame School in Syracuse, and plans to go to Syracuse University in the fall.

Elizabeth Lewis (Mrs. Jerome Howe Searl) graduated from Smith College last June. She returned to Honolulu, and in July married Jerry Searl (Williams, 1932) who is now studying law at Syracuse University. Their address is 612 Walnut Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

Marion Lewis (Mrs. Oliver S. Picher) is at Quarters 20-A, Langley Field, Virginia. Her husband is in the Army Air Corps.

Katharine Lytton (Mme. Thaddeus Zazulinska) is in Warsaw, Poland, where her husband has been transferred from the Polish Legation in Washington.

Beatrice Marion (Mrs. E. B. Proudfit) has moved from Short Hills, N. J., to Shippan Point, Stamford, Conn.

Mary Martin (Mrs. Henry O. Robinson) is temporarily at 821 S. Coast Boulevard, La Jolla, California.

Madeline Masters (Mrs. Barton R. Gebhart) has moved from Chicago to 538 Meadow Road, Winnetka, Ill.

Lucia McBride's picture and that of her mother were in the April issue of the Junior League Magazine, with a group of mothers and daughters who are members of the Cleveland Junior League.

Bobby McCurdy (Mrs. Paul J. Anderson) has moved from Ann Arbor to Cordoba 90, Mexico City, Mexico, where her husband is studying Mexican law.

Julia Meyer is going to Boston for May to study the technique of acting and directing under Mrs. Evans. This summer she will be under her at the Gloucester School of the Little Theatre. Jubby recently modeled a fawn, about the size of a new baby, creeping over a rock and stretching his hands towards the water, for the Meyers' rock garden.

Helen Boden Peters is living with her parents at 70 South San Rafael Ave., Pasadena, California. She went to China and Japan recently.

Polly Porteous is at Smith College, Northampton, Mass.

Erna Schulz, now Mrs. George Nebolsine, lives at 311 East 72nd Street, New York City. In her dancing she still keeps her maiden name.

Virginia Smiley is at the Smiley Ranch in Redlands, California; probably returning to Great Barrington in July.

Bert Smith and his wife have moved from Pittsburgh to 2804 East 130th Street, Cleveland, Ohio.

Caroline Stephens is a Junior in High School this year in Westfield. She is studying piano and has four pupils of her own. She is also studying the clarinet.

Helen Teagle (Mrs. Robert Morrison Clements) lives at 2572 Kemper Road, Cleveland, Ohio. Helen's picture was in the April issue of the Junior League Magazine, with that of her mother, both members of the Cleveland League.

Edna (Teddy) Ten Eyck, went on a cruise to Bermuda on March 23rd.

Dorothy Turner (Mrs. Milton Hunter) is teaching knitting twice a week in Pleasantville.

Dora and Janet White sailed on a three weeks' South American cruise on the eighteenth of March.

Beatrice Wose, of the Syracuse Junior League, won the Blue Ribbon of the Oils Class of the Fine Arts Group in the Regional Junior League Art Exhibition under Region II.

MISS MARJORIE HILL TO HEAD TINY WOHELO

Miss Marjorie Hill of Milton Academy Preparatory School is to be the head of Tiny Wohelo this summer. She is a graduate of the Wheelock School in Boston, and for the past two years has had charge of the pre-primary group at Milton, so that she is unusually well qualified to take charge of our youngest camp. Miss Frances Browne, director of the Lower School at Milton Academy and formerly head of the Phebe Anna Thorne School of Bryn Mawr, speaks of her work with the children at the Academy in glowing terms, and we are sure that Tiny Wohelo will flourish under her care.

HALSEY ADDRESSES CONVENTION

Halsey was called upon recently to give an address before the New England Convention of Camp Fire Girls' Guardians. His subject was "The Value of a Camping Experience." In the address, which was the last on a program of after-dinner speakers, Halsey told a number of first-hand stories of campers who had shown remarkable benefits from their summer experiences. "Campers learn how to live with others" was the subject of the first part of his address and his stories illustrated the truth of his statements. In the latter part of the address he brought out the importance of camp as a training ground for leisure. "Many definite activities are started at camp which have a tremendous carry-over value into later life. The girls and boys who learn how to swim, ride, do craft work, enjoy nature, will have the entire out-of-doors as a playground for future use. Men and women who missed the opportunity of gaining some proficiency in the use of the natural facilities when they were young are crippled in their use for the rest of their lives."

Halsey took great pride in being introduced as the son of the founders of this nation-wide organization for girls.

SEBAGO WOHELO NEWS

Fanniebelle spent eight weeks in Florida this winter. She drove down with two other girls, planning to spend three weeks, but between the golfing and the swimming, they just couldn't leave.

Mildred Boyden won highest honors in the Upper School at Bedford-Rippowam.

Charlotte and June Robinson spent their vacation in Bermuda on bicycles.

Jane Hamilton wrote for Dottie LeButt's record of "Boulder Hymn" and "He Has Welded a Symbol," but sent them speedily back with the message that they made her too camp sick.

Dottie LeButt is secretary of the Portland Music Teachers' Association.

Mickey Ashby and Libby Smith play against each other as centers on their class teams in basketball at the Girls' Academy in Albany. Libby is president of the Student Council there.

Jean Baker's father had three things in the April issue of Fortune—a portrait of Carle Cotter Conway, a portrait of Oscar Caperton Huffman, and a Map of the Federal Firmament under the New Deal. He has also been selected to design the 1935 Red Cross Christmas Seal.

Viola St. Lawrence has made the honor roll at school, and is planning to enter Colby Junior College in the fall.

Adelaide and Patsy Townsend spent a week end at Vassar visiting Nancy Townsend. They went to the Floradora Sextette in the afternoon and saw Happy Hilts there.

Anne Wonders played in the school orchestra for a performance of H. M. S. Pinafore, and Barbara Pfeiffer sang in the chorus. Mul Boyden visited Wondie for the week end of the rehearsal and also for the week end of the performance.

Gertrude went up to Boston to see Marge dance at the Fine Arts Theatre awhile ago, and saw Popsy Lund and her mother there.

Totty Hoyt, who was at camp from 1928 through 1931, is returning this summer to join the Riding Unit.

Rice Barrett's registration finally found its way to Providence. It got lost in the mail for awhile.

New registrations for Sebago Wohelo are: Esther W. Schell, of Cambridge, for the Dancing Unit; Ann McIntosh, Dancing; Reba White, Riding; Adelaide Townsend, Riding; and Barbara Marden, Music.

CHANGES IN UNIFORM

Many parents have complained about the extra cost for camp clothing. For this and for other reasons the camp has finally changed a few of the items in order to make them more useful during the out-of-camp season. Instead of middies the girls are going to wear very attractive polo shirts which tuck inside of the bloomers. The girls are still required to bring one pair of serge bloomers and in addition three pairs of inexpensive, small cotton bloomers. All the girls are urged to secure the new hat which is very attractive and has a flaring brim which will be useful on sunny days and at the ocean. It is made of a peasant blue cloth to match the polo shirts.

The camps have tried to keep the uniforms down to the minimum number of articles and this year it is even smaller as the ties have been eliminated.

The outfit blanks, which are now ready for distribution, give a complete list of everything the girls are required to bring to camp.

many accomplishments he plays the clarinet.

Larry Whittemore, another Junior Counsellor, is a friend of Bennie's. He goes to South Kent School where he is active on the school paper. He is a talented pianist so Skipper can devote his entire time to the Ukulele this summer.

John Sutor, another Timanous Counsellor, was a star half-back on the Deerfield Soccer Team last fall, the best team in the history of the school. He is the mainstay of the Deerfield Track Team in the hurdle events. John will be one of the most versatile musicians in the history of the camp. In the Deerfield band he plays one of the horns but besides this he is an expert on the clarinet, saxophone, and the piano accordion.

With this addition of musical talent all boys are urged to bring musical instruments. Timanous is to have a real orchestra this summer.

After a lapse of a year Bob Walker is returning, also as a Junior Counsellor. Bob writes that he missed camp last summer and is looking forward to seeing Don and meeting George Gaston. Bob was a boy in camp under George's brother Sawnie. He is at Taft this year.

The Skipper is coaching baseball this spring and his team has won its first two games. It looks like the best team in years. Eight more games are on the schedule.

Bill McBee went fishing with his family the other day and was the first one to catch a fish. Good for Bill! How about showing some of that skill at Timanous?

Halsey has been experimenting with a small electrically driven boat. He secured the pattern and has completed a model which he will present to camp. It runs by itself for five or six hours on two flashlight batteries. Patterns will be available for any boys who wish to make duplicates this summer.

Dave (The Caretaker) writes that the wood has all been cut and the ice has been put in for the summer. He had some difficulty with the ice as Panther Pond froze to an unprecedented thickness this winter which made cutting almost impossible. Dave is now getting the boats and cabins in shape and everything will be in readiness long before camp opens.

A letter from Gus Van Cortlandt says he is returning this summer. He also says that a friend of his, Peter Roberts, may come too. Gus, you know, is in the school where Bob Boyden is Headmaster. Don Waterman is one of his teachers.

Arthur Allen writes that he has been down to Bermuda. Guess he is the only Timanous boy to spend his vacation so far away from home. Arthur is returning this summer.

Don Waterman has been seen all along the Atlantic Coast from Boston, Massachusetts, to New York. He attended all the camp teas and was really the mainstay from Timanous at these gatherings. If there weren't many boys at the teas Don made up for it by his size. Don has been offered a number of interesting jobs for the summer but he turned them all down to return to Timanous. Hurray for Don!

Jack and Dick Ragle were at the Boston tea and it was great to see them. Of course, they are returning this summer. Jack has just received his Sharp-Shooter medal which he won last summer but for some reason or other the records were delayed. However, I imagine the medal is just as welcome now as it would have been last fall. Jack has been busy this spring catching on his baseball team. They have won all their games so far, one by 6 to 4, and one 35 to 3. He played end on the football team last fall. Dick is pitching on one of the baseball teams at Park School.

Lafe Aldrich writes he saw President Roosevelt recently. He seems to be going in for out-door sports as he received a tennis racquet, baseball bat, and even some tad-poles for his birthday.

Gus Van Cortlandt did not mention it but he is playing third base on the school ball team and his friend Peter Roberts is the pitcher.

Stanley Aldrich also seems to be going in for strenuousness. He writes that he has joined a swimming club and rides horseback twice a week. Then, just to keep himself busy on rainy days, he is making a two-tube transmitting wireless set.

The Colonel writes that life on a farm is very busy what with ice to cut and cords of wood to split and stack and now he is going in for plowing.

George Gaston started to play football this fall at the University of Richmond, and received a cracked jawbone. He played on the basketball squad during the winter, and at present he is practising tennis in order to be able to take Don over this summer.

LITTLE WOHELO NEWS

Our new campers from Providence took all the honors in the recent flower show there. Peggy Campbell won second prize for a "Bouquet for Mother's Desk," and her sister, Jane, won honorable mention in that class. Janet Salisbury, whose mother used to be at camp (Katherine Mitchell) won the first prize for her "Arrangement of Spring Flowers," while Mary Frances Lyon had honorable mention in that group. They will be able to do wonders with the flower garden at the farm this summer, and the Little Wohelo tables in the dining room should bloom as they never bloomed before.

Jackie spent some of her Easter vacation with Max in Boston. She had a most successful season with her basketball team in Laconia, and it played in the final state tournament.

Betty Dawsen has spent most of her spare time between art classes and dancing this winter.

Joan Foster's father gave her a typewriter for her birthday, and she can type-write beautifully now.

Rita Rainsford and Barbara Boyden won highest honors in the Lower School at Bedford-Rippowam. Cornelia Clapp, Barbara Boyden, and Rita Rainsford all had articles in the Rippowam Record for March. Mildred Boyden is editor of the Record.

Diane Godwin, registered for Little Wohelo, had a burglar break into her room in New York during Easter, but he was so surprised to see her that she scared him out without his getting much more than a bruise on the shins from falling over the furniture.

Sally McBee has passed her Junior Life Saving tests this winter and is all set to be one of the first Water Babies at camp next summer. She has been doing some fishing this spring, but tried first of all to catch fish with a fly and no hook. It didn't work very well.

Anne Meade Hubbard is coming to Little Wohelo this summer. She is a cousin of Janet Meade, who is also coming to camp. Other new registrations for Little Wohelo are: Elizabeth and Louise Harvey, of New Haven; Jeanne Elizabeth Mills, of Douglaston, L. I.; Louise Kahill; Cornelia Clapp, of Bedford Hills, N. Y.; and Peggy and Jane Campbell of Providence. Peggy and Jane were at Columbine Hill with Dottie and Halsey last fall, and are day pupils at Wheeler now.

NATURE MAGAZINE

EDITORIAL

An editorial written by Halsey titled "Are You Going to Camp?" appeared in the April issue of Nature Magazine. The editorial emphasizes the fact that the camp activities are important but that they are incidental to the more important and intangible qualities of character which may be absorbed. He mentioned a few definite examples of boys and girls who have learned to live with others and have started lifelong traits which have aided them in their after camp life.

TINY WOHELO

EQUIPMENT

Coming all the way from Texas are some hand-made rush bottom chairs for the Tiny Woheloites. They're the most comfortable chairs you ever saw (for Tiny Woheloites) being nine inches and eleven inches "on the sit" as the Mexican who makes them explains it. The two sizes are to allow for the tremendous growth that's expected of all Tiny Woheloites in the eight weeks.

IN MEMORIAM

Margaret Carrington, of Newark, died this Easter. She was at Little Wohelo in 1922 and at Sebago Wohelo in 1923, 1924, and 1925. Her sisters, Barbara and Elizabeth, were also at camp.

Kathryn Lowell (Mrs. Elbert Johnson) died on February 20th, of a streptococcus infection, leaving a ten-day-old son. Kathryn was a Truusted Girl Counsellor at Sebago Wohelo in 1920.
