

The Wohelo Bird

THE LUTHER GULICK CAMPS

South Casco, Maine

APRIL, 1936

HALSEY A HEADMASTER

In December, J. Halsey Gulick was appointed Headmaster of Proctor Academy for Boys, in Andover, New Hampshire. Proctor is an old New England Academy, founded in 1848, and in the heart of the best skiing section of New Hampshire. As the 1883 catalogue of the school picturesquely puts it: "It lies between Mt. Kearsarge and Ragged Mountain, from which can be seen all the important mountain ranges and peaks in the State, and is in the midst of a most charming region. It has a light, well-drained soil, delicious water from mountain springs, and in all respects is eminently healthful in location. Pupils will be remote from temptations to idleness, frivolity, and extravagance, and will be stimulated by their surroundings to the study of books and nature."

Many of the campers have already visited Proctor, and Halsey and Dottie hope that many more will come this spring.

REUNION WEEK-ENDS

One of the first things that Halsey did after coming to Proctor was to arrange for camp reunion week-ends at the school during the skiing season. They were a great success, and it did seem strange to see people all dressed in ski clothes whom you were accustomed to seeing in bathing suits.

Sebago Wohelo Week-end

The Sebago Wohelo week-end, over the seventh, eighth and ninth of February, brought people from New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Maine. Mickey Ashby and a friend, Ann Fitzgerald, came all the way from Albany. June and Charlotte Robinson drove up with their mother from Wykeham Rise School, in Washington, Conn. Polly Gutterson drove up with Betty Johnson from New York. Ellen Spear missed the annual winter carnival in Rumford, Me., to come to the week-end, and took the family car and chauffeur with her. Popsy Lund, Jean Cushing, Mary Macomber, Pat Parkhurst and Darthea Pheister came up on the train from Boston with the Providence contingent, consisting of Mary Lou Sherwood, Mary Frances Lyon, Nancy Wilcox, Janet Salisbury, Mary Anne Brereton, Jane Knowles and Peggy Bowen. Monty Montgomery arrived a day late. There was a moonlight skiing party, camp movies, a dance with the Proctor boys, a basketball game, and a ski tea. The only complaint came from Marie and Carol Christopher, who couldn't come because there wasn't a chaperon provided from New York. Everyone learned a tremendous amount about skiing, and some learned how to snowshoe because there weren't skis enough to go around. Mickey Ashby easily carried away the honors in the girls' slalom race.

Timanous Week-end

The Timanous boys trimmed the girls all to pieces in the efficiency with which they went about their skiing. They could discuss

(Continued on page 3, col. 1)

ROTOGRAVURE SECTION

Wohelo and Timanous are so proud of their grandchildren that it seemed only fair to let all of the old campers see some of the sturdy specimens who, as first children of former campers, have received Wohelo and

(Continued on page 2, col. 3)

WOHELO ALUMNAE NEWS

Engagements

Helen Barkhausen to Mr. Andre Perry.
Charlotte Clarke (Mrs. Clarke Taylor) to Mr. Robert P. Outerbridge.
Caroline Hales to Mr. Richard W. Bailey of Walsenburg, Colorado.
Elizabeth Lovell to Mr. Wallace Emmett Tobin of Boston.

Marriages

Barbara Armstrong to Mr. W. Gordon Heery, December 21, 1935.

Jane Bucklin to Mr. Kirkland Hopkins Gibson, December 7, 1935, at the Central Congregational Church, Providence, R. I.

Barbara Fort to Mr. Alfred Ross Crawford, on January 25, 1936, at Grace Church, Orange, N. J.

Ruth Kilborn to Dr. Donald Gribbin, on January 1, 1936, at Portland, Maine.

Barbara Link to Mr. William Gilbert Morton, on January 22, 1936.

Rosemary Kimball Lytton to Lieutenant Charles Sutton Sheppard of the Royal Navy, on December 21, 1935, in the Chapel of Saint Wilfred, Brompton Oratory, London, England.

Ann Nichols to Mr. Joseph Dennis Murphy, on November 28, 1935, at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Kansas City, Mo.

Eleanor Rowe to Mr. Roger Treat, of Fort Worth, Texas, in June.

Elizabeth P. Sturges to Mr. Robert L. Anthony, Jr., on June 15, 1935.

Virginia Vail to Mr. Edward George Lavino of Philadelphia, on September 17, 1935.

Eleanor Vincent to Lieutenant Ewing Chase Johnson, of the Twelfth Cavalry, U. S. A., on December 28, 1935, at Syracuse, N. Y.

Dora I. White to Mr. Samuel Spencer, on June 28, 1935.

(Continued on page 2, col. 2)

LITTLE WOHELO NEWS

Bob and Beebe are going to Chicago on their spring vacation. Dottie and Halsey hope to meet them out there.

Mopsy and Eleanor Rockwell stopped in to see Bob and Beebe at Marot Junior College the other day. They had been to Pomfret to visit their brother.

Lou O'Brien is chairman of the Pembroke Outing Club at Brown University.

Flit and Ted Perrine have been seeing each other. First Ted visited Flit, then Flit visited Ted, and then Ted brought Flit back, and so on. Ted also got as far north as New Hampshire, stopping in to see Bob and Beebe in Connecticut, Halsey and Dottie in Andover, and Jackie in Laconia.

Peggy Drummond is studying Interior Decorating at Syracuse University. She went to Lake Placid on the Syracuse week-end.

Sports note: Mariella Boyden is taking up ice hockey and Kate Gulick is taking up skiing.

ADDRESS UNTIL JUNE 10TH
Mr. and Mrs. J. Halsey Gulick
Proctor Academy
Andover, New Hampshire

A. C. A. CONVENTION

Over the week-end of March 6th, 7th and 8th, the American Camping Association held its annual convention at the Hotel Statler in Boston. Halsey, as President of the New England Association of Camp Directors, the hosts of the convention, had charge of all the arrangements, and was the toastmaster at the final banquet. Marge Littell, the Head Counsellor of the Dancing Unit, brought a group of girls from the Miriam Winslow School to give an exhibition of ballet technique for the convention. One of the things that other camp directors were anxious to hear about was the "Unit System" at Wohelo and the success of it. It seems very likely that the unit system will be adopted at many camps this summer as a result of the discussion. It is always wonderful to find out how many people know of what is going on at Wohelo, and are actively interested in it.

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

The White House,
Washington.

February 25, 1936.

My dear Mr. Gulick:

Please extend to the members of your organization and all who attend the national convention of the American Camping Association my greetings and felicitations.

The camp movement in this country is doing a fine and important work for our young people. Life in a well-conducted camp establishes codes of comradeship, service and self-reliance that exert their influence in never-ending circles. The broad program carried on by such organizations as yours, with its wisely supervised athletics, training in the essentials of woodcraft, and opportunities for nature study, develops that foursquare foundation on which sound character and altruistic ideals are built.

Very sincerely yours,

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

TIMANOUS NEWS

Bill Heery and Bobby Armstrong were married on December 21st in Providence.

Don Waterman saw Bob and Beebe during Christmas vacation, and played hockey with Chuck Whittemore and Bobby Benson in New Canaan. Don saw the Wohelo water sports day in the movies in Buffalo in January, under the title, "Thrills of a Camera Man."

Benny Benson is pledged to Kappa Alpha Fraternity at Williams.

Bud Dana is head of the Student Council at the University High in Ann Arbor, and spends his spare time perfecting his diving in the University pool.

Win Rust's Christmas card was a knock-out as usual, since his father is the Rust of Rustcraft cards.

Cliff Nickle is attending the Mohawk Day School and says they're having real winter in Schenectady.

Mac Gaston played on the basketball team which won the championship of the campus league at Springfield College. He won his first match in the interclass boxing bouts in the middle of the second round.

Larry Whittemore went out for freshman soccer at Williams last fall.

(Continued on page 4, col. 3)

SEBAGO WOHELO NEWS

Bobby Armstrong and Bill Heery were married in December. Some discussion as to where they ought to be listed resulted in their appearing in practically every section of THE WOHELO BIRD. After all, when a Timanous counsellor and a Wohelo counsellor get married, it seems like pretty important news. They are living at 15 Sylvan Ave., Edgewood, R. I.

Betty Dawson has been skating and sliding a lot this winter. She joined the swimming club at school and swims at the "Y."

Mickey Major plans to go to Washington for Easter vacation to see some friends and look over some boarding schools.

Molly Boyden made a wood block for her Christmas card this year. Betsy Shepardson's card had a picture of her on it on her horse, Post Boy. Ollie Faust's Christmas card, very appropriately, had a sailboat on it.

Droopy Dana played on the hockey team at Swarthmore College again this year, and is now on the basketball team. She is also hall president.

Ollie Faust is taking Geology at Swarthmore . . . influence of Dr. Chapman's talk last summer, we feel sure. Incidentally, Dottie and Halsey had a telephone call from Dr. Chapman recently, and find that they're quite near him, for he's at the University of New Hampshire. They hope he will come and talk to the Proctor boys in the spring.

Billy Godfrey had the mumps this winter.

Thisle is teaching arithmetic, science, and one class in French at the Country Day School for Girls, Riverdale-on-Hudson, N. Y.

Edith Otis is doing some trio concerts with a harp and a violin. Mid Williams is at last studying the cello with Edith. Mid writes that Hugh Edgar has two teeth, weighs 20 lbs. and 10 oz., and has a passion for odd noises.

Jane Bigelow had an operation for appendicitis in February.

Eddy Williams has the Junior Orchestra at the David Mannes Music School, and now has a Primary Orchestra for his littlest ones. He recently played in an orchestra under Paul Stassevitch, and a Sunday afternoon concert at the Barbizon. Every Saturday in March he is playing in Mr. Mannes' Symphony Orchestra at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Nathalie Kimball was in Florida this winter for a while at Fort Lauderdale.

Sophie Ostlie says that there were fifty Minnesotans at a party she went to in Philadelphia recently.

Mary Macomber and Jean Halladay were "Peers" in the Beaver Country Day School production of "Iolanthe" on March 6th.

Mother Merrill visited Halsey and Dottie in Andover, N. H., during the Christmas vacation.

Gertrude Plaisted has had the grippe for over a month. She has finally gone up to Portland to the Maine General Hospital, where she seems to be shaking off the last of it, and hopes to be back in Andover soon.

WOHELO

(Written by Edward R. Cluff, father of Nancy and Betty Cluff)

Mid fragrant pines and rock-cleft shore,
Scattered tents on granite shelves,
Lapped by the song of the murmuring road,
Of ruffled waters, breaking swells,
Tuned to the dance of the fairy elves,
Camp of a host of "Tinker Bells,"
Sunbronzed and slim as maidens of yore,
Studied in crafts and Indian lore,
Moulding with love, work, song, dance and play,

By primitive symbols of bygone day,
God's noblest creature of life-giving glow;
Glorious woman—at Lake Sebago.

Wohelo Alumnae News

(Continued from page 1, col. 2)

Births

Caroline Bradley (Mrs. Andrew B. Wallace III), a daughter, September 29, 1935.

Bettina Bryant (Mrs. Stewart Hill Jones), a daughter, Wendy, October 2, 1935.

Parthenia Burke (Mrs. James Lindsay Luke), a son, July 18, 1935.

Lucy Cathcart (Mrs. Jonathan Worth Daniels), a daughter, Adelaide Worth, December 10, 1935.

Nancy Gardner (Mrs. Charles Huston), a daughter, Nancy Elizabeth, July 16, 1935.

Alice Laffer (Mrs. A. W. Patterson), a son, Fred Russell Patterson II, born July 4, 1935.

Elizabeth Lewis (Mrs. Jerome Howe Searl), a son, Peter Howe, February 21, 1936.

Marianne Stevenson (Mrs. Bruce Thorne), a daughter, Elizabeth Smith, April 6, 1935.

Joan Stuart (Mrs. Barrett Scudder), a daughter, September 2, 1935.

Helen Teagle (Mrs. Robert M. Clements), a son, Thomas III, August 27, 1935.

Margaret Withington (Mrs. Jesse Coe), a daughter, Cynthia, June 7, 1935.

Alumnae News

Edith Ackley has been giving talks and lectures on marionette work this winter. She plans to go to Rockport, Mass., again this summer. Telka Ackley is a senior at Birch Wathen School this year.

Spooks (Katharine Alden) is teaching pottery, in addition to her weaving and knitting. She spent a week-end with Hope Allen, and drove to South Egremont, Mass., where Ginny Smiley's family is developing a winter sports center.

Fannielle Allen is at the Knox School in Cooperstown, N. Y. She went on a trip to Mexico this fall, and spent a few days in Syracuse recently.

Betty Babcock is at the Masters School in Dobbs Ferry.

Jean Baldwin (Mrs. Wm. H. Garniss) stuck a piece of material which her husband designed onto their Christmas cards this year.

Lucy Barnard (Mrs. Ellis O. Briggs) spent the summer in the U. S. She is back at the American Legation in Havana, Cuba, now. She says that re-staffing her household in Havana after a summer in the U. S. makes her feel that her diplomatic husband's problems are simple compared to keeping peace among a Chinese cook, Cuban butler, Jamaican maid, and Hungarian nurse.

Eleanor Bingham has a secretarial job with the Bachrach studio in West Newton, Mass.

Tattie Bingham (Mrs. Henry P. Leverich) writes that she knew Mlle. Marie-Louise Berg while she was in Geneva, and that both she and Mlle. Berg were sure from the first that they had known each other before. It wasn't until THE WOHELO BIRD announced the birth of Tattie's daughter, Nancy, two years ago, that Mlle. Berg discovered she had known Tattie at Wohelo, and wrote to her.

Isabel Boyd (Mrs. Isabel B. Proudfit) had an article on Stevenson in the Psychiatric Review.

Betty Bull (Mrs. W. K. Freeman) went to Philadelphia in January. Her picture, with her two daughters, was in the January 12th Boston Transcript.

Kay Carey is in her seventh year of music supervision in the Edgewood schools of Pittsburgh. She has glee clubs, orchestra, and grade school work, besides plays and operettas. She lives at 1016 South Ave., Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Betty Carrington (Mrs. J. D. Winans) is moving to 398 Highland Ave., Newark, on May 1st. Her husband is in politics, and Betty divides her time between his politics, her two-and-a-half-year-old son, Peter, and Junior League work.

(Continued on page 3, col. 2)

Rotogravure Section

(Continued from page 1, col. 1)

Timanous chairs. Can you recognize the following by their likenesses to their Wohelo mothers or Timanous daddies?

1. Frances Borgman, daughter of Lillian (Bach) Borgman.

2. Nancy and Betty Quirk, daughters of Martin Quirk.

3. Andrew Adams Peterson, son of Andrew I. Peterson.

4. Diana Furness, with her mother, Phyllis (Radford) Furness.

5. Betsy Bolton, pinch hitting for her older sister, Claire, daughter of Fanny (Hanna) Bolton.

6. Barbara Crockett, daughter of Shy and Mabel Crockett.

7. Lucy T. Briggs, daughter of Lucy (Barnard) Briggs.

8. Julian Hatton, Jr., Harry and Billy Hatton, sons of Charline (Leonard) Hatton.

9. Lewis Picher, son of Marion (Lewis) Picher.

10. Christopher Denny, son of Mary Lois (Ketcham) Denny.

11. Hugh Edgar Williams, son of Eddy and Mid Williams.

12. Mary de Forest Freeman, daughter of Betty (Bull) Freeman.

13. Charlotte Robinson, daughter of Louise (Gulick) Robinson.

14. Georgianna, Katherine and Barbara Wallace, daughters of Peggy (Powers) Wallace.

15. Van Court Lucas, son of Virginia (Bunting) Lucas, holding Leighton Ford, son of Bettina (Bunting) Ford.

16. Betty Jane Amberg, daughter of Betty (Selkirk) Amberg.

17. Arthur E. French, Jr., son of Pauline (Day) French.

18. Burton W. Hales, Jr., and Tommy Hales, sons of Burton Hales.

19. Nancy C. Bowman, daughter of Don Bowman.

20. Paul Popenoe, Jr., son of Betty (Stankovitch) Popenoe.

21. Bobby Massie, son of Molly (Kimball) Massie.

22. Dickie Boyden, son of Bartlett and Lee (Fowler) Boyden.

23. Roy and Evelyn Coffin, children of Tince (Pfungst) Coffin.

24. Mildred Boyden, daughter of Bob and Beebe Boyden.

25. Carol Gardner, daughter of Carol (de Windt) Gardner.

26. Barbara Durston Smith, daughter of Jane (Durston) Smith, and Elizabeth Byrnes, daughter of Ibbie (Gere) Byrnes.

27. Jakie and Marty Congleton, children of Dick and Marty (Hedden) Congleton.

28. Katherine Merrill Gulick, daughter of Halsey and Dottie (Merrill) Gulick.

29. Phoebe Ann Mason and her mother, Townie (Barnard) Mason.

30. Warren H. Clarke, Jr., son of Dorothy (Buttolph) Clarke.

31. Joseph M. Cooper, Jr., son of Jane (Kerr) Cooper.

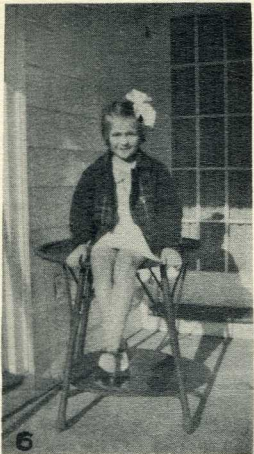

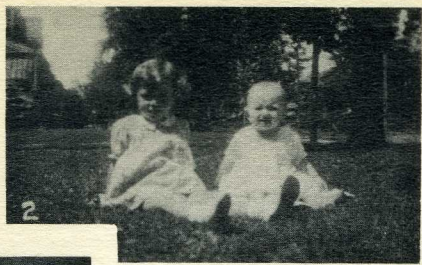

32. Glenna Garniss, daughter of Jean (Baldwin) Garniss.

33. David Fulmer, son of Lois (Hoover) Fulmer.

WOHELO'S GREAT-GRANDCHILDREN

Ida Brien (Mrs. Claude F. Zamloch) writes that while Lillian Bach (Mrs. L. B. Borgman) may claim that her daughter, Frances, is the first Wohelo "grandchild," she can't claim the first "great-grandchild." Ida has two grandchildren, one two and one three and a half, the first "great-grandchildren" on record, outside of the Gulick family. Ida's daughter, Betty, is twenty-one, and claims the title of second oldest "grandchild."

Reunion Week-ends

(Continued from page 1, col. 1)

waxes like veterans, spent hours waxing their skis, and were equipped with all the latest gadgets. Dick Ragle and Has Schell took the most difficult hills, and worked up a small ski jump. Jimmy Godwin, Bud Brereton and Hank Keene progressed with their beginners' skiing by leaps and bounds. Jack Ragle held watchers spellbound as he demonstrated how he could wrap his feet around without breaking bones. George Gaston progressed so fast that he took the Ridge Trail and broke a ski to bits without hurting himself. Has Schell won the slalom race for advanced skiers, and Bud Brereton won the beginners' race.

Little Wohelo Week-end

Nancy Ann Bacon, Joan Wallace, Arlene Walton and Marjorie Hill came up on the train from Boston for the Little Wohelo week-end. Alice Kiley boarded it at Nashua, since she is teaching school in New Hampshire this year. Hippo drove up from Providence with Bob and Beebe and Baba, who stopped on their way up from Thompson, Conn. Bob and Baba, having spent some time at Lake Placid, were very efficient skiers. The big point of the week-end was a sleigh ride behind a pony, taking in all the surrounding country.

TIMANOUS ALUMNI NEWS

Engagements

Dick Seymour to Margaret Album of Gates Mills, Ohio, on September 23, 1935. They plan to be married in June.

Henry Warren to Virginia Hoskins of Springhill, Mathews Courthouse, Virginia.

Marriages

Edward Barnard to Charlotte Williams, on September 13, 1935, at Prince's Point.

Gordon Heery to Barbara Armstrong of Providence, on December 21, 1935.

Eric Warner to Margaret J. Bacon of New Britain, Conn., on February 8, 1936.

Alumni News

Ed Barnard is working for Letters, which is published fortnightly by Time, Inc. His address is 647 West 169th St., N. Y. C.

Gordy Brown is at Dartmouth, where he says he does lots of work with the books but takes time out for canoeing in the spring and skiing in the winter, a bit of work in cross-country for the Athletic Council, and building stage sets for the Players. He is now in Medical School there, where he says he's trying to carry on the traditions of Marty Quirk.

Johnny Dean has been transferred to Brooklyn from Woodbury, N. J.

Henry Hertzler is at Mercersburg Academy, Mercersburg, Pa. He is a member of the Irving Literary Society, the Press Club, and was recently elected Vice-President of the Academy Camera Club.

John Hill is living at Stony Brook, Long Island, N. Y.

Jim Hoyt spent the summer in Europe. He and his father are going to Europe with the Boy Scouts this summer.

Bob Kesler is on the staff at Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H.

George Langdon is teaching in New York. His address is 241 West 11th St., N. Y. C.

Speedy and Milton Nichols were ushers at the wedding of their sister, Ann, on Thanksgiving morning.

Marty Quirk and his wife are driving south this month. Marty practises medicine in Red Bank, N. J.

James B. Salsich is living at 296 N. Columbia Ave., Columbus, O.

Henry Thompson is in the Philippines with the Insular Lumber Company. He married Henrietta Wise, of Virginia, in 1934. Their address is Insular Lumber Company Fabrica, Occidental Negros, Philippine Islands.

Tyler Thompson and his wife and son are in Marseille, France. Their address is the American Consulate, Marseille. They came home to the United States this summer.

Bob West is at Exeter this year.

Wohelo Alumnae News

(Continued from page 2, col. 2)

Rosalind Cassidy is President of the National Association of Directors of Physical Education for College Women. She has gone abroad for a while this spring.

Connie Considine (Mrs. Wm. R. Walker) is moving to Springfield, Mass., when she finishes this year at the Mary C. Wheeler School in Providence.

Franny Cooper's Craft Shop, at 428 So. Warren St., Syracuse, is doing such a thriving business that she had to get Eugenie Lewis as an assistant.

Fritz Creamer spent two months in England last summer and a week in Paris.

Curt (Mrs. Helen Curtiss Cowles) spent a week-end with Tince Pfingst (Mrs. Roy R. Coffin) this fall at a farmhouse somewhere between Philadelphia and Princeton. They went pheasant shooting, played tennis, and went to the Harvard-Princeton football game. Tince's husband went to England to play squash with the American team.

Dub Davis is teaching physical education at Sweet Briar College in Sweet Briar, Va.

Barbie Eaton (Mrs. C. M. Sykes) has moved to Mayfield Cottage, Coupe Green, Houghton, Lancashire, England. The cottage is over 200 years old, with 18-inch wide window ledges and ceilings so low that you can touch them with the palm of your hand. She says that they are in the country, and spend their time working in the garden, taking their three dogs for walks, or trying to get the tennis lawn ready for next summer.

Betty Lee Edwards spent part of the summer in Canada. She was ill all of Christmas vacation, and is now trying to make up the work she missed.

Glad Edwards has been working hard, because the head of her department at Schrafft's broke her ankle.

Babs Edwards had to leave Vassar this winter because of ill health.

Dorothy Emmons again showed in the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs exhibit for Massachusetts Artists, at their annual meeting in Swampscott. Her picture was purchased by the Hyde Park Woman's Club. This is the third year the Federation has bought one of her pictures. She also had an exhibition of her paintings at the Gallery of the Copley Society of Boston from January 13th to 24th.

Isabel Farrington (Mrs. John W. Richards) and her husband have a small cabin sailboat which they sail up Puget Sound through the San Juan into Canada every summer. They live at 511 E. 59th St., Seattle, Washington.

Carol Fisher (Mrs. H. H. Baumann) is lecturing in Switzerland, and plans to come to the U. S. in the near future.

Esther Forbes graduated from the Low-Heywood School last June, and this year is at the Shipley School in Bryn Mawr. She played on the Shipley hockey team this year, and was chosen a member of the all-Philadelphia school team.

Margaret Freyn (Mrs. Thomas M. Dunn) is living in the same house as Elizabeth Flack, at 16 Christopher St., New York.

Kitty Gardner is a student at Sweet Briar College.

Ibbie Gere (Mrs. H. M. Byrnes) has helped put over a dog show and a welfare drive this winter.

Jean Gibson (Mrs. Paul J. Eakin) is living in the Shurmer's old home, at 2709 Southington Rd., Shaker Hts., Ohio.

Mother Bee Gleason spent the winter in St. Petersburg, Fla. After being there only two weeks, she fractured her lower left leg in two places, and has been laid up ever since. She hopes to be back in Watertown, Mass., by April.

Dottie Griffin (Mrs. D. G. Perry) is working at Olcott, Paul and Havens, at 40 Wall St., N. Y. C. She saw Mary Lois Paschall (Mrs. Donald Davis) recently, and Betty Brown (Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt Field III).

Frances Gulick has just returned from Honolulu, where she seems to go every winter, and is now just finishing exhibiting in the last of the Sportsmen's Shows. She had a Migis Lodge booth in the shows at Boston, Hartford and New York this year. As soon as the ice goes out, her spring fishing season will open at Migis.

Jean Halladay has taken up skiing this winter. She and Pat Parkhurst took part in the play, "Arms and the Man," which Beaver Country Day School and the Rivers School for Boys gave. Jean is president of the Current Events Club at Beaver.

Clara Hallard (Mrs. Waldo Fawcett) writes that she is experimenting with marionettes.

Anne Halle and her father are going to Europe. Anne's sister, Helen, is coming to Sebago Wohelo this summer.

Fanny Hanna (Mrs. Julian C. Bolton) spent four months in Tucson, Arizona, this winter. She is now visiting her brother-in-law in Palm Beach, Florida.

Bob Hertzler is back in Lancaster, having obtained his degree of C. P. A.

Martha Hodgson (Mrs. Rutherford L. Ellis) broke into print again, this time with a sonnet, "To H. A.," published in the Junior League Magazine for October, 1935.

Lois Hoover (Mrs. Kline Fulmer) is moving to Washington, D. C., into a house which her husband designed, and which he supervised building. Their address is 4622 Davenport Rd., N. W.

Tottie Hoyt won a scholarship this year at the Pennsylvania College for Women in Pittsburgh.

Alice Jackson and Helen Louise Maxcy are living at 121 Pleasant St., Laconia, N. H. They teach in the Laconia schools.

Peggy Jenks isn't able to take dancing with Marge Littell this year, because it comes at the wrong time. She has done a lot of ice skating this winter.

Mary-Lois Pratt Ketcham (Mrs. George H. Denny) and her family had a Gilkie Trailer made for them, and are taking both children, a nurse, and themselves on a six months' tour of the country.

Alice Laffer (Mrs. A. W. Patterson) is living at Alloy, West Virginia, where her husband is a turbine engineer at the Electro-Metallurgical Co. They spent Christmas in Cleveland with Mrs. Laffer.

Paul Lehman is headmaster of the Dublin School in Dublin, N. H.

Louise Leland's firm, Haldeman and Leland, in Louisville, Ky., was awarded the contract to make a design for a park for the

(Continued on page 4, col. 2)

BIRD HOUSING ADMINISTRATION

By MOTHER MERRILL

When we got to camp last June, we found Sam had worked wonders toward housing the birds. There were beautiful homes of various sizes in the best forest styles. The houses were made of hollowed oak limbs, with rustic perches and lichen decorations. The doorways were so darling it was hard to understand why there wasn't a long waiting list for each house. People are sometimes slow to make changes, as Mrs. Roosevelt found when she built homes for the miners at Reedsville. Our birds seemed equally "set" in their ways.

A pair of robins turned down our houses and nested on the electric wires against the pumphouse above the old riding circle. They liked it so well they raised two sets of babies there. Perhaps the vibrations of the pump pleased them more than the wind in the trees, or they may have been developing a feeling for jazz. On a beam under Den's porch, a pair of phoebes built a nest, beautifully decorated with lichens and mosses. It was up to their highest standard, but the red lice killed the babies, and the parents left, discouraged. We did not find out the trouble in time to kill the insects and save the babies. In the top of a hemlock tree near Gertrude's office, a pair of parula warblers set up housekeeping. They had the air of wanting to be "on top of the world," and they loved Gertrude's typewriter. Mr. and Mrs. Pewee made a beautiful swinging nest, covered with lacy bits of lichens. They liked Margy's dancing and Janie's music, so they hung their nest near the stage of the tennis court, but when the girls began to sleep out in groups of twos and threes and to experiment on all kinds of "original" shelters, it was too much for the peewees. They moved to the further side of the driveway.

At the farm a pair of robins built in one of the lombardy poplars. Nothing seemed to upset them, neither horses, nor grooms, nor girls, but the poor song sparrow that built her first home in the lily bed flew every time anybody came near. She finally left the nest, having lost the one baby that hatched out. The redstart that had a nest nearby, and Mr. and Mrs. Cedarwaxwing, who lived in the mock orange bush, added both color and interest to the farm.

Birds, as well as the rest of us, love the Music Unit. "Chambie's" violin pleased a pair of waxwings so much they built a nest near her practise arbor in a tree that overhung the lake. A beautiful song sparrow chose a small spruce that looked into "Sivad." She rocked to the rhythm of Urana's piano every day.

We hope Sam's beautiful houses will all be in use when we get to camp next summer. Even birds may learn the possibilities of beautiful houses.

CAMP DIRECTORS

Wohelo is proud of the following former Woheloites who are now directing camps of their own: Rosalind Cassidy, National Officer of the A. C. A.; Juliette (Meylan) Henderson, of Camp Arcadia, Casco, Me.; Sara (Holiday) Sprague, of Camp Clearwater, Minocqua, Wis.; Ruth (Metzger) McCulloch, of Camp Aladdin, Old Lyme, Conn.; Helen Snaddon, of Camp Osaha, Trout Lake, Wis.; Elizabeth Polleys, of Camp Elizabeth Polleys, East Greenwich, R. I.; Hope Allen, of Camp Waukeela, Conway, N. H.; Dickie Goodrich, assistant director of Camp Vista-mount, Bristol, N. H.

Wohelo Alumnae News

(Continued from page 3, col. 3)

Louisville Water Co. She says that their contract, including a design plan for an adjoining avenue, is completed, that actual work on the project has been started, but is not yet finished. Louise spent two months last summer visiting gardens in England.

Lois Long is broadcasting, writing for the New Yorker, endorsing the beautiful big pockets in Buicks, and a hundred other things.

Meredith Marshall and Helen Marshall (Mrs. George H. Waterman, Jr.) were bridesmaids at Jane Bucklin's wedding in Providence.

Lucia McBride's mother wrote an article on "The Spoils System" for the January issue of the Junior League Magazine.

Kit McCormick (Mrs. Justin Sturm) writes that Sandy, her oldest boy and a Wohelo chair owner, can hold the chair in the hollow of his hand. He is an inch and a half taller than Kit, weighs 130 pounds, and is working diligently to get into Exeter next year.

Julia Meyer is at the Little Hotel, 33 W. 51st St., N. Y. C., studying with Charles Hopkins. She was with his stock company on Long Island this winter, and goes back when it reopens in April. She had the part of Aggie, the kleptomaniac, in "Kind Lady," and the part of Fifi in "Tulips Are Blooming."

Ruth Miller (Mrs. H. E. Fracker) had an exhibition of oil paintings at the Altadena Recreation Building in California. Ruth studied art in New York, Paris and Florence, and received second prize for the painting "Struggle" at the Olympic Games in Los Angeles. She also received first prize for portraiture at the California State Fairs in 1931 and 1932. More recently she has painted the murals in the children's wards at the Pasadena Hospital and exhibited at the San Diego Exposition.

Claris Lou Morrow is at Smith College. Her address is Park House.

Ann Nichols (Mrs. Joseph D. Murphy) is in St. Louis, where her husband teaches Modern Design at Washington University.

Hariette Patey (Mrs. Hilton W. Long) is living at 2 Prescott St., Cambridge, Mass. She graduated from Mt. Holyoke in 1927 and from the Cambridge School of Architecture in 1930, worked in New York and Washington, and studied gardens abroad for a year.

Kate Payson is taking a secretarial course and with Elizabeth Thomas is doing volunteer social work at the Portland, Me., Children's Service Bureau.

Nathalie Penrose is Secretary to the Headmaster at the Lakeside School in Seattle, Washington. She saw the camp water sports day parade in the Pathe News in Seattle this February.

Pete Peterson wore himself out trying to get a picture of his young son on his Wohelo chair and still have the Wohelo bird show. If you'll look at the picture in the rotogravure section, you'll see that a sturdy son like his can't be wound around a chair and not hide the emblem.

Darthea Phemister spent a week-end at Proctor Academy with Halsey and Dottie when the Sebago-Wohelo campers were there. Darthea used to go to Proctor when it was co-educational.

Bill Powers (Mrs. Lee M. Woodruff) was a delegate from Grand Rapids to the Junior League conference in San Francisco last May.

Peggy Powers (Mrs. Edward A. Wallace, Jr.) and her husband are back in Grand Rapids, where her husband is vice-president of Berkey and Gay Furniture Co.

Gretchen Rose, now in New York again after four years in Paris, says that she is having to get used to America all over again.

Esther Schell spent a month last summer on Children's Island, as a volunteer nurse in charge of twenty small girls between the ages of five and eight.

Jean Schneider and Marie Powers are teachers at the Westchester Branch of the David Mannes Music School, and have been giving trio concerts with Eddy Williams in the Westchester school and some of the clubs there.

Cornelia Simpson (Mrs. Wallace Thompson) has three sons and a small daughter. She is living at 345 Park Lane, Galesburg, Ill.

Edythe Smith (Mrs. Lowell Hall) has just returned from a vacation in Mexico, after a year in Washington, where her husband was with the N. R. A.

Katherine Spencer (Mrs. F. T. Eagan) writes that her husband is in charge of a C. C. C. camp in Kanosh, Utah. She was thrilled with Margie Lee Runbeck's story in Liberty Magazine.

Betty Stankovitch (Mrs. Paul Popenoe) and her husband spent a week at the San Diego Exposition, going to all the Shakespearean plays at the Globe Theatre. Afterwards they spent a week at Ensenada, Baja, California, taking short trips still farther into Mexico.

Helen Stecher (Mrs. P. K. Ranney) designed her Christmas cards this year. She is taking a course now in etching.

Caroline Stevens is a student at Hollins College.

Eunice Thompson is at Vassar this year. Norma Thompson is a bacteriologist at the Babies' Hospital in New York.

Nancy Townsend visited Lucy Barnard (Mrs. Ellis O. Briggs) in Havana for a month this fall.

Betty Warren (Mrs. Richard D. Bolster) and her husband visited Dottie and Halsey in Andover in February. They went skiing all week-end, and thawed out evenings over the fireplace.

Lucy Wendorff spent Christmas vacation with friends in Porto Rico.

WOHELO SYMPATHY

To Ann McIntosh, who lost her mother the day after Christmas. Mrs. McIntosh was taken ill with pneumonia the day before Christmas and lived only two days.

To Tattie Bingham (Mrs. Henry P. Leverich), whose youngest child, John Bosworth Leverich, born January 25, 1936, in Berlin, Germany, died in March. Tattie and her husband are coming home to bring the ashes and services will be in Montclair.

Timanous News

(Continued from page 1, col. 3)

Mutt Ray is busy with baseball practice once more at Dartmouth. There is a possibility that he may be shifted behind the plate this year.

On a recent trip to New York, Skipper spent the night with Alan Rath in Brooklyn. Skipper says that Alan is so healthy that he is positively fat.

Warren Smith is wintering in Scarsdale, N. Y. Because he couldn't attend the Timanous week-end at Proctor, he ran a rival party and had Bob Dwight out from New York to keep him company.

Super Suitor has been in the interfraternity debating at Vermont this winter. He and his team have reached the semi-finals, with Super winning the honors of best speaker of the evening in the last debate.

Skipper went to the annual meeting of the Secondary Education Board at Lawrenceville, N. J., in February. He is Chairman of the Board of Examiners in English for 1936.

Twit Sheehan has been coaching the Junior lightweight basketball team at Deerfield. His team won eight out of ten games.

Pat and Smitty stopped in to see Halsey and Dottie at Proctor.