CAMPERS ENTERED FOR 1939

This fall has been very encouraging in making plans for next summer. Each year a larger number of campers has been entered in the fall, and this year breaks all records. Seventy-five percent of last summer's campers are now entered, and some of the groups have only a few vacancies for new campers. This record should be a source of pride to all those who have ever attended Wohelo and Timanous.

WINTER HOLIDAY

On December third, Halsey and Dottie are leaving for a month's cruise to Bermuda, the Leeward and Windward Islands, and British Guiana. Charlotte and Katherine are going to Washington to spend the vacation with Mother Merrill.

WOHELO CHAIRS

Our rare old Mexican chair maker has finished another shipment of chairs, and sent us the loveliest picture postcard to tell us about it. It has a picture of Monterrey, Mexico, at night under a full moon, and the message is:

Dear Mrs. Halsey Gulick Today
Oct 11 1938 we received your letter and check. Hoping that you'll order some more chairs. And I am sending you these post-card showing you that I went to Monterrey.
Your's truly,
Jose Garza.

When we consider how many Wohelo grandchildren it took to get him to Monterrey (on whatever cause it was that took him there) and how obviously happy he was to get there (and back) we're more anxious than ever to know if we've missed any first children of former campers who should have Wohelo or Timanous chairs.

LITTLE WOHELO NEWS

Beebe was quite sick with gripe after they got back to Vermont Academy. She is well now, and took Mariella to Montclair to visit her grandmother, recently. Bob is pleased over a new ice hockey rink they are to have this winter. Mariella will be on the hockey team yet, even if it is a boys' school.

Nancy Baker is at the Lincoln School in Providence. She had some riding lessons before school started.

Monnie Bensen has charge of the children's clubs at the Children's Museum of Hartford, Conn.

Becky Berry is working for a publisher in Boston.

Midge Bethell and her brother went up Mt. Washington on the cog railway and up Cannon Mt. on the aerial tramway on their way down to the Adirondacks after camp.

Nancy Bond moved to West Newton, Mass., this fall.

Maggie Booker went to New Brunswick,

TIMANOUS NEWS

Ben Baker has the position of regular night nurse at the Deerfield Academy Infirmary.

Bob Bensen played on the Deerfield Varsity soccer team this fall. Previously he had always played in the halfback line, but this season he was at the inside right position.

Rocky Bethell went to the Adirondacks after camp and stayed until after Labor Day. They went up Mt. Washington on the cog railway and up Cannon Mt. on the new aerial tramway, on the way down from camp. At Ausable Chasm they took the boat through the gorge and then drove up to the top of White Face Mountain.

Dave Brown is a freshman at Dover High School.

Ridgely Chambers went fox-hunting and played polo and golf before going back to Arizona Desert School in Tucson in October.

Winter Address

MR. AND MRS. J. HALSEY GULICK
Proctor Academy
Andover, New Hampshire

FILLING AT LITTLE CAMP COMPLETED

The work of filling and grading the playground at Little Wohelo was finished early in November, and the top soil and fertilizer have been added. This work has been contemplated for a number of years, for the ground has been soggy and damp after summer rainy spells. It took four men two months to complete the job, but it will mean one of the best improvements to the camp in many years.

YEAR BOOK DELAYED

The latest report from the printer indicates that the year book will not be ready until about Christmas time. This delay has been occasioned by some difficulty in assembling the pictures and then trying to condense them to sixty-four pages. Originally a hundred pictures were to be used, but this number has been increased to over a hundred and fifty. If any old campers would like to purchase a copy of this bound book of pictures of last summer, they may do so by sending a check to the camp for $2.50.

HALSEY SHOOTS

DEER AT CAMP

Halsey spent three days at camp during the early part of November, and while there he shot an eight point buck, weighing almost two hundred pounds. Although deer are not often seen during the summer, there are plenty of them back in the woods. After camp closed they were frequently seen on the road from South Casco, and one day Ossie saw three right down near the circle at the Big Camp. A few moose have also been seen during the fall, but they are not so plentiful as they were two years ago.

SEBAGO WOHELO NEWS

Mary Carol Ackerman is in the fourth form at Rosemary Hall this year.

Anne Appleton's dog, Peter, won a second prize at the New Canaan pet show.

Bobbie Babcock went up into Maine after camp, but acquired bronchitis and was sick until school opened.

Bondy went to the movies with Kimmy this fall, and went with Jo Faust to see Andy Winn.

Barbara and Molly Boyden and Ted Perrine climbed Mt. Washington after camp. They met Hedley Reynolds, from Camp Timanous, there.

Mickey Clark expects to go to Florida the first of December.

Janet Crawford has been horseback riding and dancing since camp closed.

Rickie Curtis visited her cousin in Chicago before school opened.

Cush writes that she has started a knitting service called the "Knit-Wit". Any Woheloites interested will be well taken care of.

Leo Dain is keeping up her riding so as to be in trim for camp next year.

Timanous Alumni News

Jake Fassett is assistant manager of the Parker House, in Boston.

Steve Fassett has made a tremendous collection of phonograph records, and broadcasts every Saturday for a half hour over WQXR in New York.

Irving Fellner was a fourth former at Lawrenceville, last year, and camera editor of the Lawrence.

Robert Foster is Assistant N. E. Representative of the N. Y. Herald Tribune and the Philadelphia Inquirer in Boston. He lives at 150 Oliver Rd., Waban, Mass. Bob has a wife and a two year old son, Robert Chapman Foster, III.

Fritz Gilbert was married to Miss Annis B. Stearns of South Orange, N. J., in November, 1937. They are living at 106 E. 57th St., New York City.

Billy Goodall is with the National Park Service, with headquarters at Omaha, but he lives in St. Louis. He has been with the Park Service for four years, and helps with the development of organized camps in their recreational areas. He covers fourteen states. Billy says that he became an American citizen last December.

Carlton Greenwood visited Camp Timanous this summer.

David C. Grinnell is living in England this winter.

Gus Gutterson was the regular center on the Junior football team at Deerfield this past season.

Sam Hardy was at the University of Virginia last year.

Gerry Henderson is back at the Dublin School in Dublin, N. H.

Newt Hodgson is studying at the Baker School at Yale. We expect that some day he will be writing plays for his uncle, Jay Fassett, to act in.

Bob Jaynes is at Proctor Academy, Andover, N. H., where Halsey is headmaster.

John T. Kimberly left Trenton last February to come back to New Haven with the National Savings Bank. He saw Sannie and George Gaston in New Haven last Christmas.

Lincoln Kirstein is the head of the American School of the Ballet in New York City and has become so famous that there are constant write-ups of him in newspapers and magazines.

George Langdon spent the summer at Camp Penacook in N. Sutton, N. H.

Norm McGay is at Deerfield this fall, and played regularly in the backfield of the Junior Lightweight team. His excellent punting was a feature of the seven games which the team played and won this season.

Bob Montgomery is at Exeter this winter.

Jo Odiorne lives at 77 Elm St., Apt. 43, Waterville, Maine.

Jack and Dick Ragle are at Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H.

Mutt Ray, who is still working for the Underwood-Elliott Fisher Company, spent his Saturdays early this fall scouting Yale for the benefit of his old Alma Mater, Dartmouth. He must have done good work, judging by the score of the Dartmouth-Yale game.

Doc Reiber has been found, after all these years. He is assistant director of the League of New Hampshire Arts and Crafts, with headquarters in Concord, N. H. It seems strange to find a New Orleans accent there. He lives at the Iris Lodge, Hopkinton, N. H.

Jimmie Robbins attended the Case School of Applied Science in Cleveland last year, taking time out after Christmas to drive down alone through Mexico in his Ford roadster. He has a sailboat on Lake Erie, and has done quite a bit of flying.

Dr. Oscar Rose finished his work with the College of Physicians and Surgeons and a two years' internship in the Jersey Medical Center. For six months of this year he was house doctor there.

Jim Salsich spent the summer on a ranch in Wyoming.

Johnny Senior was on the Harvard J. V. Crew last spring.

Victor Seydel was in a hospital down south for six months this year, but was back at work with the Jerome Cargill Co. in June, producing plays all over the country.

Walter C. (Twit) Sheehan has been appointed one of the three alumni members of the Williams College Athletic Council.

Jo Staples and his mother ran "The Flag Walk," an antique shop at Harrison, Me., this summer.

Henry (Count) Toll was a star lineman on the undefeated Midget football team at Deerfield this fall.

Jack Walsh ran into Halsey and Dottie on Kearsarge Mountain in May. He is with the Liberty Mutual Life Insurance Co. in Baltimore.

Larry Whittemore visited camp this summer.

Joe and Hana Yamagiwa stopped at camp this fall when Halsey and Dottie were away, and missed them, after all these years.

Sebago Wohelo News

Paul Fairfield is teaching Physical Education and coaching football, basketball and baseball at the Webster Junior High School in Auburn, Me.

Jo Faust went down to a wedding in Downingtown, Pa., after camp closed.

Rozzie Gethro and Mouse gave an impromptu surprise party on Puss Willard's birthday out at the Cambridge School—by candlelight, since it was just after the hurricane. Rozzie went up to Proctor Academy for their fall house party weekend, and saw Halsey and Dottie and Gertrude.

Buel Godwin is back at the University of Maine.

Shirley Godwin's summer home at the Cape was entirely blown away by the hurricane.

Lois Hart, Leo Dain and Nancy Golding went to visit Babs Payne at Candlewood Isle after camp. Lois Hart is going to House in the Pines at Norton, Mass., this winter.

Mouse Hodgson is spending Thanksgiving with Powder Lee in Englewood, N. J. Mickey Hubbard is editor-in-chief of her school paper. She just received a five dollar prize in connection with this, for a letter written for the N. J. Scholastic Editors' Conference.

Ossie Jewett has a new daughter, born in October, and named Valerie.

Derry Keller is art supervisor in the Winchester, Mass., schools. Derry finally bought a chihuahua, and named him "Tamale".

Buzz Kingsley has moved to 219 Fernwood Avenue in Montclair.

Jean Kolb is at the University of Wisconsin this winter.

Gee Gee Lee is studying at the New York School of Social Work. She will get her degree at Bennington this June, however, as they allow some of their students to take their senior year as non-residents.

Powder Lee is a Sophomore at the Dwight School in Englewood. She is one of the assistant business managers of the school magazine and an officer in the dramatic club, as well as class representative on the student council.

Anne Lindsey was a leading actress in a Beaver Country Day School production of one act plays. She played the role of a ballerina.

Marge Littell went down to New York with Fanniebelle after camp, and then on to Atlantic City, where they visited Fanniebelle's mother.

Puppy Littell is back at Burdett Business College, and has a job there, in addition to studying.

Mother Merrill took Katherine and Charlotte Gulick up to the Isle of Springs to visit her after camp closed.

Jo Misner and Don Waterman are to be married December 22nd at Westchester Hall, 24 Soldiers' Place, Buffalo, N. Y., at 8 p. m. They announced their engagement too late for the last Wohelo Bird last spring, and even now we are at a loss as to where to tell about it, because it definitely isn't alumnae news, and yet if we call it Timanous News, Wohelo will be offended, and if we call it Wohelo news, Timanous will be annoyed no end. And if we duplicate, everyone will tell us about it, just as they do in the case of that other Timanous-Wohelo family, the Congletons. At any rate it is tremendous news, and very good news, and both camps wish them all happiness.

Jo and Carol Smith and Eleanore Stroh had a wonderful time at the National Nimble races at Douglaston, L. I., and did awfully well. Prissy Keighler, Pooh Raworth, and Tod Dorkey came down for the banquet. Jo had to give a speech at the banquet, and was made a member of the race committee, and Halsey was made a member of the board of governors.

There was a brief write-up of the activities of the Sebago Wohelo Yacht Club regatta in the October "Yachting Magazine".

Pooh, Prissy, and Carol Smith are at Westover this year.

Betsy MacColl went down to the Cape for a few days after camp.

Mary Macomber is coming out this winter. She stayed at Poland Springs after camp and saw a lot of Puss Willard.

Phil Mayo is studying dancing with Hop at the Winslow School.

Margie McClumpha is at the Brearley School in New York.

Eleanor Minot was on the stage crew at the Beaver Country Day School's production of one-act plays.

Marian Mueser is back at Barnard College. Fanniebelle and Hop had dinner with her this fall.

Bobbie Ostgren is at Mount Holyoke College. She spent a week in the Adirondacks this fall, mountain climbing and aquaplaning.

Edie Otis is back at the David Mannes School, teaching. She is working on a book of musical games for children in her spare time.

Marjorie Portugal goes to the Juilliard Graduate School in New York.

June Robinson is back at Emma Willard, in Troy, N. Y.

Lolly Stone is at the Lincoln School in Providence, and hopes for a healthy winter without her appendix.

Sue Swatland has been playing croquet and badminton, and went swimming and paddling every day while the weather was warm enough.

Mattie Tepel is back with the Student Health Service at the University of Penna.

Ann Thayer is a freshman in high school in Pleasantville. She is collecting match book covers and would love any donations.

Patty Wagner took a ten day cruise on the Gripsholm this fall, going to Nassau and Havana.

Jo Waite is at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester. She was one of two girls in the entering class to be elected to serve on the Student Council.

Andy Winn writes: "I visited a Yacht Basin and went aboard a few schooners. Surprised myself when I found I could name most of their parts. That's the Sailing Unit for you!"

Evie Woods has settled in Fort Wayne, Indiana, for the winter, where she is whirling through radio programs, concert arrangements, and teaching.

Wondie, Pooh Raworth, Prissy Keighler and Tod Dorkey had lunch in New York before the Douglaston races.

After the Herald-Tribune Coaching School, Don Waterman attended practice sessions at Fordham, Manhattan and Williams College. Don is back teaching and coaching at the Nichols School in Buffalo.

Don and Jo Misner are to be married on December 22nd in Buffalo. After January 10th they will be at home at 24 Brantford Place, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sonny Westerfield goes to the Essex Fells School.

Charlie Whittemore is at South Kent School in South Kent, Conn.

Kayo Willard saw Williams and Tufts play a tie game in football. He reports seeing Bob Geer, Bill Curtiss, Johnny Sutor, and Whoops Snively there. Kayo has a new .22 rifle, and he promises to show some fancy shooting at camp with it next summer. In a letter from Manchester, Vermont, dated October 27th, he writes: "This morning at breakfast, we saw a deer in the front yard. It was pretty."

CAMP FAMILIES

Answering a challenge of Lucy Barnard Briggs' we delved into the figures of the families who had sent the most campers to camp over the longest period of years, and discovered a lot of interesting things.

For the greatest number of campers over a period of years (counting brothers, sisters, and cousins) the Bingham, of West Newton, Mass., win. One or more members of their immediate family, Tattie, Betty, Eleanor and Mary, were in camp from 1921 through 1932. Their cousin, Eunice Jameson, came in 1927 and stayed through 1929. Now they have three cousins in camp, Katharine, Lyman and Morton Hull, of Chicago, the children of Dolly Walker Hull, who was at camp in 1917. Since Dolly hadn't married a Bingham relative in 1917, we refuse to count her in the total, and only credit them with eight.

The Barnards, of New Rochelle, and the Lyttons, of Chicago, tie for second place, each with seven. In the Barnard clan, there have been Lucy, Townsend, and Edward Barnard, all in camp around 1920 to 1923. Then came Frances Townsend, Adelaide Townsend, Nancy Townsend, and Patsy Townsend, bringing them up through 1938, when Adelaide was a counselor at Little Wohelo.

In the Lytton family, there were Katharine, 1916, and Rosemary, 1920-22. The Marshall cousins, Marion, Meredith and Nancy came from 1920 to 1928, and a cousin of theirs, Helen Marshall, came in 1928-29. In 1936, Katharine's son, George Benello, was a camper at Timanous, thus really defeating the Barnards by stretching the Lytton line out over two generations and twenty years.

For the greatest number in any single family, as well as for the greatest stretch of years in a family, the Hodgsons of Atlanta, Ga., are undefeated. In 1917, Martha and Fred came to camp, followed by Jennie in 1920, Newton and Sloat in 1925, and Margaret in 1935. Margaret is now a junior counselor at Wohelo, and we hope will stay with us until after Martha's children start coming to camp.

Only two families have had four children in camp at once. The Millikens, of Augusta, Me., had four daughters, Beatrice, Gladys, Nellie, and Vivian, at camp in 1918. The Wilbert Smiths of Syracuse, N. Y., had four daughters, Marguerite, Henrietta, Jean and Nanette at camp in 1931.
